

CHILDREN IN COMMON

ENSURING THE WELL-BEING OF CHILDREN WHEN PARENTING APART

October 22, 2015 9:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. z.umn.edu/ufftf

PARTICIPATE

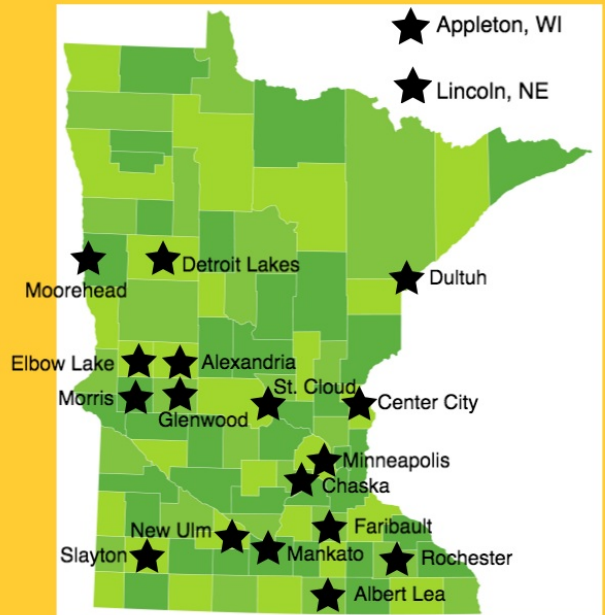

Live in person at McNamara Alumni Center

From a host site around the country. Learn from your colleagues and engage in lively conversation.

From your desk via live web stream.

PRESENTERS

Kathryn Edin, Ph.D.

Bloomberg Distinguished Professor

Department of Sociology at John Hopkins University, whose studies on poverty have influenced research, practice, and policy.

James McHale, Ph.D.

Director

University of South Florida St. Petersburg's Family Study Center, who is the nation's leading researcher on co-parenting dynamics in diverse family systems.

